

Certificate Presentations

This activity wraps up the days learning by having the participants connect with a partner and share their response to a closing statement or question.

Potential statements/questions to have participants to respond to might include:

- Name one important thing you learned today;
- A question that was unanswered for you today;
- What one thing really resonates with you from today;
- What one thing do you want to learn more about?

Adult Learning Stage: Wrap-up

Goal(s):

Provides the adult learner with an opportunity to reflect on the day's learning.

Prep:

Select a question or statement to use as a wrap up

Prepare attendance and participation certificates with participants' names on them

Directions:

1. Pose a closing question or statement to the group.
2. Have participants think about their response and write down their thoughts.
3. Pass out certificates so each participant has someone else's certificate.
4. Participants locate the person whose certificate they have.
5. As they hand the participant his/her certificate, he/she tells the other his/her response to the question or statement.
6. The certificate recipient shares his/her response.
7. Certificate delivery continues until all participants have their certificates.
